

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph at page 7 beginning at line 1 with the following:

This functionality ~~is~~ is contained in a single object document called the customer document. The customer document consists of objects and their associated attributes. This document and its functionality were completely assembled utilizing the invention environment. Any of its functionality can be modified or enhanced in the execution environment.